“Gracious God,

You are the giver of all wisdom and understanding. As Solomon once asked not for riches or power, but for a discerning heart to lead Your people, so we too come before You asking for wisdom.

As a legislative body, we face choices and challenges that aren’t always simple. We need Your guidance, Lord. Teach us to listen for Your voice, to see things through the eyes of faith, and walk together in love and humility.

Help us to seek not what is easy or popular, but what is right in Your sight. Fill us with Your spirit so that our thoughts, our conversations, and our actions bring You glory.

In Your name we pray. Amen.”

Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Linting, Thompson, Robinson, Schriver, Schuette, Steckloff, Bierlein and Rogers offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 199.

A resolution to declare October 2025 as Health Literacy Month in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, The American Medical Association recognizes limited health literacy as a stronger predictor of poor health status and outcomes than age, race, education level, socioeconomic status, or employment status; and

Whereas, The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services adopts two definitions that when combined constitute health literacy; Personal Health Literacy: the degree to which individuals have the ability to find, understand, and use information and services to inform health related decisions and actions for themselves and others; and Organizational Health Literacy: the degree to which organizations enable individuals to find, understand, and use information and services to inform health-related decisions and actions for themselves; and

Whereas, October has been recognized as Health Literacy Month internationally since 1999. It has been recognized by federal organizations such as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the National Institutes of Health, and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Thirteen states have recognized October as Health Literacy Month in the past 15 years to raise awareness about the importance of health literacy and its effects on health status and outcomes; and

Whereas, The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that 9 in 10 Americans have limited health literacy and lack the skills necessary to manage their health and prevent diseases, to seek and obtain health care, and communicate effectively with their providers. Limited health literacy affects individuals across every segment of the population, regardless of if individuals possess strong literacy skills or higher education. Promoting clear and understandable health information can assist individuals take greater responsibility for their well-being; and

Whereas, It is estimated that the burden of unaddressed limited health literacy represents between 7 to 17% of all national personal health expenditures and costs the U.S. healthcare system $106 to $238 billion a year. Limited health literacy is associated with: 1) An increased risk of sentinel events; 2) Worse overall health status; 3) Reduced ability to understand health messages; 4) Limited ability to follow and adhere to medication instructions and understand labels; 5) Lower likelihood of seeking or receiving preventative care; 6) Greater use of the emergency department and increased hospitalizations; 7) Lower satisfaction with care; 8) Shorter life expectancy. These risks are preventable when health literacy is addressed; and

Whereas, Health literacy training for providers of any experience level is shown to improve patient health literacy and prevent patient-provider miscommunication which poses risks such as sentinel events. However, health literacy practices, such as the use of plain language, are not consistently included in curriculum within health professional’s training at schools of Medicine, Nursing, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Public Health, and Allied Healthcare across Michigan; and

Whereas, The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has declared health literacy as a foundational principle and overarching goal of Healthy People 2030. Their updated goals include eliminating health disparities, achieving improved health for all, attaining health literacy to improve the health and well-being of all, and stressing the responsibility of organizations to address health literacy; and

Whereas, Federal organizations are bound by The Plain Writing Act of 2010 to write “clear government communication that the public can understand and use”. Health organizations across Michigan are committed to promoting and supporting strong organizational health literacy; and

Whereas, Health literacy is necessary to achieve improved health by providing health information and that is understandable, accessible, and actionable to all. Addressing health literacy needs can improve the health status and quality of life for millions of Michiganders; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body declare October 2025 as Health Literacy Month in the state of Michigan.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Reps. Young, Rheingans, MacDonell, Morgan and Weiss offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 200.

A resolution to urge the Wayne County Airport Authority to halt plans to open a cigar bar inside the Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

Whereas, The Wayne County Airport Authority, which operates the Detroit Metropolitan Airport (DTW), plans to issue a request for proposals to open a cigar bar and restaurant in the McNamara Terminal. This plan would require an exemption from Michigan’s smoke-free air law, which has prohibited indoor smoking in DTW since 2010. Moving forward with an exemption would roll back more than 15 years of established health protections for travelers and employees and undermine Michigan’s progress toward ensuring public places are smoke-free; and

Whereas, Michigan voters largely oppose opening a cigar bar in the airport. A statewide poll conducted by EPIC-MRA in late June 2025 found that 77 percent of Michigan voters oppose placing a cigar lounge inside DTW. This could be because cigars cater to a finite group of consumers. In 2021, only 3.5 percent of all adults and only one percent of adult women were estimated to smoke cigars. The number of cigar users pales in comparison to the estimated 88.4 percent of Americans and 86.4 percent of Michigan residents who do not smoke; and

Whereas, Secondhand smoke is deadly. Every year in Michigan, over 1,740 nonsmokers die as a result of exposure to secondhand smoke. Cigar smoke is especially harmful. A single, large cigar can contain as much tobacco as an entire pack of cigarettes. Secondhand smoke can trigger an asthma attack in a child, and even brief exposure can cause damage to the body and increase the risk of heart attack; and

Whereas, Ventilation is not sufficient to remove tobacco smoke and protect individuals’ health. The American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers issued a position document stating that “[t]he only means of avoiding health effects and eliminating indoor [environmental tobacco smoke] exposure is to ban all smoking activity inside and near buildings”; and

Whereas, Detroit-area airports, including DTW, provide a workplace for more than 18,000 employees. Comprehensive, 100 percent smoke-free workplace policies are the only effective way to eliminate secondhand smoke exposure in the workplace. Secondhand cigar smoke puts workers at risk of cardiovascular disease and cancer. Annually, smoking-related illnesses and premature deaths cause over 156 billion dollars in lost productivity in the United States, including 5.6 billion dollars in lost productivity due to secondhand smoke. In Michigan alone, a loss of 11.5 billion dollars in annual productivity is attributed to smoking-related illnesses and premature deaths; and

Whereas, Allowing indoor smoking in airports is atypical. Of the top 35 airports in the United States, all but three prohibit indoor smoking. Opening a cigar bar normalizes smoking and unhealthy behaviors in an environment where tens of millions of people travel each year, including many families with young children; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the Wayne County Airport Authority to halt plans to open a cigar bar inside the Detroit Metropolitan Airport; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the board members and the Chief Executive Officer of the Wayne County Airport Authority and the Director of Concessions and Quality Assurance at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The resolution was referred to Committee on Government Operations.
